

Attachment 1:	Job Description
Title of Position:	Senior Research Officer
Date of job description:	22 nd April 2021
Reporting to:	Director of Research & Science
Main tasks and responsibilities
Project management: • Manage and coordinate the day-to-day implementation of study protocol activities • Collaborate with the national and global research teams in implementing the protocol • Represent the local Principal Investigator at meetings as assigned • Develop and maintain systems for organizing and curating all qualitative research activities and data • Involve the County Health Management Team and the facility managers who will be participating in the study to ensure their support and cooperation • Ensure that health facilities collect quarterly data via phone surveys • Take the lead in training data collectors for both qualitative and quantitative interviews Research Plan Development: • Conduct background literature reviews, author sections relevant to the protocol and coordinate with the PI and other investigators to ensure the protocol is submitted to the ethics committee on time • Work on new calls from the diverse partners and come up with good concept notes/proposals together with the team for new business development. Manuscript writing: • Assist investigators and project staff in writing relevant sections of manuscripts, as well as in submitting study results, articles, and scientific manuscripts for publication • Conduct literature searches and retrieval, as well as other tasks required to ensure timely preparation and submission of these materials • Assist with conference abstract submission and poster and oral presentation preparation Project support: • Conduct capacity building of study team members especially in qualitative research • Assist with other project-related needs as determined by supervisor • Develop and maintain reference libraries, and other references using knowledge management software • Participate with study team members in development of ongoing project reports and documentation of progress, including preliminary analysis of qualitative data, summarization of findings, and development of visuals to communicate findings to stakeholders • Perform other duties and responsibilities as assigned.
Specific Requirements
• Education. Master's degree in medical anthropology, medical sociology, public health or a related field emphasizing qualitative research methods training. • Experience. Skills or required:

- 5+ years with professional qualitative research experience.
 - 3+ years conducting in-depth interviewing, focus group discussions, and participant observation.
 - Knowledge and understanding of public health issues and human subjects protocols.
 - Experience working with stakeholders to design, author, and manage qualitative studies.
 - Strong organizational, planning, and problem solving skills.
 - Strong interpersonal skills and a team player.
- Software. Proficiency with the following software: NVivo, Atlas.ti. Nudist, Microsoft Office Suite (Word, Excel, Powerpoint), EndNote or other citation software.
 - Communication. Excellent written, verbal and visual communication skills required.