

Attachment 1:	Job Description
Title of Position:	Research Officer
Date of job description:	1 st November 2021
Reporting to:	Principal Investigator
Main tasks and responsibilities
There are two main tasks/responsibilities for this position 1) To coordinate an upcoming study on contraceptive implant choices and 2) Prepare documentation to ethics review for 1) renewal for ongoing projects, 2) final reports for completed projects. Specifically, the following will be the JD: Month 1: • Prepare final report for submission to the Amref ERC and to NACOSTI for the following: The FSW cohort study, The FSW costing study, the Teenage pregnancy study in Narok, The teenage pregnancy study in Homabay, The FTYM study, the Whisper/Shout study • Prepare annual report for the following: 1) TMP DESIP, 2) ITH-DIB, 3) FSW Cohort study • Prepare an excel spreadsheet for tracking ERC approvals and renewals Month 2 to month 5 – The Contraceptive Implant Study • Prepare documents for ethics review for the Contraceptive Implant Study • Train research assistants for the study • Prepare for data collection • Supervise research assistants during data collection for both qualitative and quantitative • Work with the data analyst during quantitative data analysis • Work with the data analyst during qualitative data analysis • Prepare the final study report • Lead in authoring manuscripts from the study.
Specific Requirements
Essential qualifications • Master degree in Public Health, Epidemiology or related field with at least 5 years' experience in core research. • Experience in preparing documents for ethics review • Ability to work independently with strong problem-solving skills • Good verbal and written English and Swahili • Qualitative data analysis skills is an added advantage	