

Attachment 1:	Job Description
Title of Position:	Program Officer – Qualitative Research and Quality Control
Date of Job Description	13 th May 2022
Reporting to:	MEL Advisor
Job Summary: Work closely with a multidisciplinary team, and Principal Investigator/National FP expert and the National Monitoring and Evaluation Expert to lead qualitative research efforts as part of third-party monitoring for a national FP program. In addition, support in qualitative data management, analysis and dissemination as well as in quality control of research projects within the organization.
Key Responsibilities: Coordinate field activities for the third-party monitoring including recruitment, training and supervision of research assistants, overseeing data collection through focus group discussions, In-depth interviews, direct observation, support in qualitative analysis, report writing and dissemination of findings, participate in journal publications and professional conference presentations. Other key responsibilities include preparing documents for Ethics review application, ensuring adherence to data handling and confidentiality and quality control for research projects.
Qualitative data collection, analysis and dissemination
• Support in designing and pre-testing of data collection tools • Train research assistants on qualitative data collection techniques and offer technical assistance during field data collection • Support in data collection through guiding the research assistants through contacting/identifying research participants, screening for eligibility, informed consent and data handling techniques • Lead in transcription, translations and data analysis of qualitative data • Write and disseminate the study findings through publications and conferences
Coordination of project/study activities
• Co-ordinate day-to-day activities of the project by establishing and maintaining a project work plan • Ensure the necessary documents for ethics approval application are prepared and maintain a regulatory binder for the approved study documents • Participate in the recruitment and supervision of data collectors and enumerators in each county of data collection • Prepare for the training of data collectors and support the TPM team in training – prepare training materials, organize logistics related to training venue, trainers, transport reimbursement etc. • Supervise collection of qualitative data at health facilities and in communities in various counties.

Quality Assurance for Research Projects

- Perform regular review of all research projects to ensure existence of regulatory binders, valid research certificates, and valid Good Clinical practices(GCP)certificates for all staff involved in research
- Ensure all study documents are handled and stored in accordance to data handling and protection guidelines

Essential Requirements

- At least a Bachelor's degree in - medical anthropology, medical sociology, public health or a related field emphasizing qualitative research methods training
- 2+ years' experience in research involving human subjects
- 2+ years conducting in-depth interviewing, focus group discussions, and participant observation
- Verifiable experience in performing qualitative data analysis using NVIVO, Dedoose or any to other related qualitative software
- Experience supervising field data collectors
- Experience in coordination of multi-county studies and interventions
- Strong organizational, planning, and problem solving skills.
- Strong interpersonal skills and a team player.
- Excellent written, verbal and visual communication skills required.